AFTER THE WEDDING.

The wedding day is bright and gay, the bride is blushing like a posey; the happy pair are free from care as on their honeymoon they mosey. A little while they live on smile, and glance, and whispered adoration; but honeymoons pass by eftsoons, and then there comes a strained relation. The husband sighs when eating pies suggestive of some kinds of leather; he gives a whoop when tasting soup that makes his insides run together. He never thought before he brought the blooming damsel to the altar to ask if she could cook so he could eat her grub and never falter. The bride is filled with grief and chilled with dread; the skies seem dark above her; he stays away for half a day, and doesn't swear he'll always love her. Have patience, though! This phantom woe will pass away, as they grow younger! The bride will bake a dazzling cake, and pies to soothe her husband's hunger! And he will learn to pause and turn, when leaving for his daily duty, and tell his wife that she's his life, his solace, and his dream of beauty!

Endeavorers of the District, who have been readers of Union Work, a monthly paper, which has been printed for the past three years by the United Society of Christian Endeavor, will be interested to know that this paper has been inco porated in The Christian Endeavor World. This step has been decided upon in view of the fact that Union Work did not reach as large a number of Christian Endeavor workers as The Christian En deavor World, and it is believed that by combining the two, more good will be ac complished. The space devoted to union work in The Christian Endeavor World in the future will be fully as great.
